Bayer Admits GMO Contamination is Out of Control

(Organic Consumers)

Bayer has admitted it has been unable to control the spread of its genetically-engineered organisms despite 'the best practices [to stop contamination]'(1). It shows that all outdoors field trials or commercial growing of GE crops must be stopped before our crops are irreversibly contaminated.

$2 million US dollar verdict against Bayer confirms company's liability for an uncontrollable technology

Greenpeace welcomes the United States federal jury ruling on 4 December 2009 that Bayer CropScience LP must pay $2 million US dollars to two Missouri farmers after their rice crop was contaminated with an experimental variety of rice that the company was testing in 2006.

This verdict confirms that the responsibility for the consequences of GE (genetic engineering) contamination rests with the company that releases GE crops.

Bayer has admitted it has been unable to control the spread of its genetically-engineered organisms despite 'the best practices [to stop contamination]'(1). It shows that all outdoors field trials or commercial growing of GE crops must be stopped before our crops are irreversibly contaminated.

A report prepared for Greenpeace International concluded that the total costs incurred throughout the world as a result of the contamination are estimated to range from $741 million to $1.285 billion US dollars.(2) The verdict indicates that Bayer is liable for what could turn out to be a large proportion of these costs, as it awards damages in the first two of more than 1,000 currently pending lawsuits. The decision must be used to support all claims for losses incurred by other US farmers whose crops have suffered from GE contamination.

This should be of no surprise to anyone. Since when has genetist , scientist , etc kept any of their frankenstein projects contained & safe. Look you dumb bast-rds , leave the make up of nature alone , you are not God , you can not improve on his creation of things. Take your G.E. items & throw them in the trash. Nobody wants them .

This is one Hell of an orchestrated effort to create the annihilation of all foodcrops.
No wonder that eugenicist Bill Gates (together with MountSatan) stashed away thousands of uncompromised hereditary seeds in an ice vault in Norway.
To be used after all of us 'useless eaters' have perished and they have come crawling back out of their underground facilities.
I call this vermin the ELIMINATI...

I see a "thing" developing. What would happen to this imposter in office if he were to be stripped of the Nobel Peace Prize and after suffering that wound turns into the anti-christ?! I say strip his award from him and we all must demand it. Our new motto til it happens is "No Nobel for Obama-Sottaro"
