

chrislang.org

20 DECEMBER 2004 · 7:02 AM

Genetically modified trees – Further reading

By Chris Lang, published by WRM and FoEI, December 2004

Back to contents

Further reading

Notes and sources

There are several useful reports about the problems of GM trees. In no particular order, here's a selection:

Viola Sampson and Larry Lohmann, Genetic Dialectic: The Biological Politics of Genetically Modified Trees, The Corner House, Briefing 21, December 2000.

Faith Campbell, Genetically Engineered Trees: Questions Without Answers, American Lands Alliance, July 2000.

From Native Forests to Franken-Trees: The Global Threat of Genetically Engineered Trees, Action for Social and Ecological Justice, USA.

Rachel Asante Owusu, GM technology in the forest sector: A scoping study for WWF, Worldwide Fund for Nature UK, November 1999.

Designer Forests – The Development of GM Trees, GeneWatch UK Briefing Number 16, September 2001.

Anne Petermann, GE Trees and Global Warming: The Myth of Carbon Offset Forestry, Global Justice Ecology Project.

Anne Petermann, GE Trees: Myths Vs. Reality, Global Justice Ecology Project.

Mario Rautner, Designer Trees, Biotechnology and Development Monitor, No. 44, 2001.

The Orchard of Dr Moreau . . ., Corporate Watch UK, Magazine Issue 9, Autumn 1999.

Jim Diamond and Neil Carman, Sierra Club's position on Genetically Engineered Trees, Sierra Club, 8 July 2003.

Genetically Modified Trees: A Global Threat. Native Forest Network, Eastern North America, Special Report, March, 2000.

Share this:

Facebook

0

Print

Eco World Content From Across The Internet.

Comments are closed.

FEATURED ON ECOPRESSED

Why It's a Bad Idea to Fish Out the Bottom of the Marine Food Chain