@YouLiamTube No there is no "man" in the sky, nothing ever said there was, alot of people tend to interpret things wrong and most people listen to what their preacher or parents tell them and never question it, but if you take it upon yourself to look for the truth and research and experience, you'll find that there is a very good possibility that a God entity does exist, and really physics and everything else at the smallest level falls apart without the factor of a creator

Lol it's so funny.

Anything that pop up on the screen he tries to make sound so dramatic. Imagine a picture of a penis came on there.
