According to our sources this is now a Level 6 event and readings will be fluctuating and rising rapidly.

At this time it is openly admitted that readings are 400 mR/hr at 20 miles out from the source.

It is now openly admitted that radioactivity has reached dangerous levels in the area. There is now a 20 mile diameter perimeter (HIGH-RAD AREA) established around the Fukushima reactor.

Local weather patterns are reported to have now changed course to a southerly direction sweeping nuclear winds toward Tokyo as locals fear radiation poisoning.

Moscow has reported a spike in sales of gieger counters and iodine pills are reportedly hard to get as prices rise.

Residents of Hawaii should stay posted.

The following is an AP excerpt;

Japan races to contain nuclear threat after quake

(AP) – SOMA, Japan – Dangerous levels of radiation leaking from a crippled nuclear plant forced Japan to order 140,000 people to seal themselves indoors Tuesday after an explosion and a fire dramatically escalated the crisis spawned by a deadly tsunami.

In a nationally televised statement, Prime Minister Naoto Kan said radiation had spread from the four stricken reactors of the Fukushima Dai-ichi nuclear plant along Japan's northeastern coast. The region was shattered by Friday's 9.0-magnitude earthquake and the ensuing tsunami that is believed to have killed more than 10,000 people, plunged millions into misery and pummeled the world’s third-largest economy.

This disaster is reaching unprecedented levels on a world scale and escalating rapidly. The Intel Hub urges you to you critical thinking skills when considering what is at hand along with options and what is to come. Be alert.

Just a silly question: could the fuel rods, somehow, be quickly dragged into the ocean?

A: That would be dangerous to human health.

B: They would most likely melt down before you even reach the ocean.

C: It would be a bad idea because it would contaminate the water even worse, even if just in a small area.

This is simply horrifically laughable.

What we are witnessing is GENERAL ELECTRIC'S OWN DIRTY BOMBS going off.

NOT A PROBLEM! KEEP A STIFF UPPER LIP, CHUMP-HOLES!

And the press is still saying GE has every right to make a profit planting these dirty bombs all over the place! God bless GE! God bless, Jeff Immelt.

Of course, "dirty bomb" is nomenclature used in the hype about what the terrorists could do.

I live on the Canadian border, way-way the hell up in northern Maine.

My locale is being inundated with terrorists.

They drive white and green SUVs that say "Border Patrol" on the side. Of course they have not found a single dirty bomb coming over the border. BUT -to be sure- they are sure looking for them.

We were all given visual images to think about, visual images of dirty bombers riding subways and the nation's bus lines with radiation-filled salt-shakers sprinkling death and destruction upon all our innocent American people, especially those hundreds of thousands of wonderful, patriotic, A-bomb making, dirty-bomb making people who will get fine pensions because they work for GE -led by Too-Tall Jeff Immelt.

Folks, in plain and very simple English -SCIENCE- is painting humanity into the corner of a room with all the poisonous byproducts of science.

And scientists will still tell us, if it is not scientific, it is not rational!

How rational is science going to seem when there is no place left to stand where the poison is not going to wipe humanity out?

Jeff Immelt should be on the top of the ten-most-wanted list -headed toward death row in short order.

Hang him high!

Don Robertson
